Mr. Z. A. Jones,

Lancaster, Ky.

Dear Sir:-

You will find the points on this plow fits perfectly and every one will fit like the point that was on the plow when it came from the Factory, guaranteed to fit—nothing like it in the Plow line.

We have a number of customers using this plow who says it beats all plows for easy rining and light draft that they ever used - to use one is a pleasure.

SILVER TEA.

The Woman's Club of this city will give a Silver Tea at their local club rooms on the evening of Feb'y 22nd., at which time a silver offering will be taken.

WARNING!!!

Don't forget, Mr. Reader, that unless you pay for your subscription to the Record in advance, your paper will be stopped after March 15. Owing to the high price of paper and other materials necessary to issue a paper, we must have the money in advance. Look at the date on your label.

MINISTERS DAY.

Each Tuesday morning the chapel period is given over to the ministers of the town, each taking his turn at conducting the devotional exercises of the school. Frequently the minister leaves a word of encouragement or a practical suggestion to the school. Brother Tindler the last visitor at chapel spoke briefly but practically on developing the powers of observation, a subject in line with the regular school work. We welcome the ministers. Lancaster High School Bulletin.

VOGEL'S MINSTREL

The announcement that Vogel's minstrel will appear at Roman's Opera house next Wednesday night, will bring joy to the young as well as the old, for it is considered one of the best on the road and we predict that the house will be crowded on this night. Reserved seats can be had at McRoberts drug store and we would advise that you get yours now.

BURDETT.

Miss Virginia Burdett, the 10 year-old daughter and only child of Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Burdett, Jr. of Chicago, Ill. died at the home of her parents after a brief illness of Scarlet fever. The above was contained in a message received by Miss Mary E. Burdett, of Parksville, from her brother Mr. Geo. D. Burdett of Louisville, Virginia. Burdett was a grand daughter of Mr. Geo. D. Burdett, and a very bright and attractive child. Danville Messenger.

FARM SELLS FOR $25,000.

One of the largest land deals made for some time in this county, was negotiated by Sweeneybrod, the Real Estate Man, when he sold for J. F. Robinson of Macon Georgia, his farm of 207 acres, located on Lancaster and Stanford pike about two miles from Lancaster, to A. H. Brown of this county for the above sum. This is a splendid farm well improved and on account of Mr. Robinson's business interests in the south he perhaps sold the farm for less than he otherwise would and it is considered that Mr. Brown secured a bargain.

BIRDS ATTRACT ATTENTION.

During the heavy snows this winter four red birds have frequented the home of Mr. J. E. Stormes where a friendly welcome always awaited them as well as a lunch of beef suet and grain. No doubt they told of their friends to others of their "kith and kin" for during the cold days of last week as many as forty-five robins were counted at one time in this yard. Why not everybody protect and feed the bird friends during these crucial times of snow and sleet? During the coldest weather of this season Messrs John Ross and John Furra scattered grain over their farms for birds and pheasants as did others. Sixteen quail came into the yard of R. L. Elkin where they were fed and unmolested, being allowed to depart in peace. Kentucky will be a grand place in which to live when we learn to protect and restore some of the things with which we were once so abundantly blessed.

LINCOLN

If Abraham Lincoln looks down upon us to-day, he sees that for which he labored, suffered and finally laid down his life. His ideal of a united Nation is fully realized. Through travail and anguish the Union was cemented. Until we are to-day as never before in the country's history. It is because we face other big possibilities of travail and blood that we are so united. Not in the quest of material store, but in peril and pain do we enter into that spiritual partnership which makes us truly strong and great. If Lincoln looks down upon us to-day his kindly soul must rejoice to see that righteous principle still actuates us. No thirst for gain, no yearning for dominion or glory; but humanity as expressed in justice and decency, impels the Union which Lincoln preserved to stand sorrowful but resolute, upon the threshold of war to-day.

MEMORIAL METHODIST

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

The Sunday School will meet next Sunday at 9:45, as usual. The mechanic promises that the furnace will be repaired before then. We regret very much that we were smoked out last Sunday, but trust that such will not occur again. F. D. Palmeter, Pastor.

FORMER PITCHER

MCCORMICK DIES.

Mr. Milton McCormick, aged 39 years, formerly star pitcher of the Lexington club of the old Bluegrass Base Ball league, and more recently with the South Atlantic league, died at the home of his parents in Hustonville Friday of tuberculosis. He was a member of the Bluegrass league during the season of 1909 and was traded to the Paris club the next year and later transferred from there to the South Atlantic league. Mr. McCormick was a brother of Mrs. Logan Hubble who has the sympathy of Garrard county friends.

VETERAN PHYSICIAN

DIES OF INFIRMITIES.

Dr. William Doores, 87 years old, died at Crab Orchard, Friday, of the infirmities of age. He had been in active practice for half a century, retiring about four years ago. He was a Captain in the Confederate army under Gen. Price. He was wounded several times and had five horses killed under him.

After the war he settled in Garrard county, going from Garrard county to Lincoln in 1897, where he has lived since. His wife, who was a Miss Thomas, of Missouri, died ten years ago. He leaves three daughters, Mrs. Sadie Coniter, New Mexico; Mrs. Lura Spiegel, of Shelbyville, Ind., and Mrs. Leola Livingston, of New York City. The body was brought to Lancaster for burial Sunday, and laid to rest beside other members of his family.

HERBERT LEE GOES

TO RICHMOND.

Mr. Herbert Lee, who has been for the past two years associated with his father, Mr. H. D. Lee, in the grocery business, has sold out his interest and has bought an interest with his brother Mr. Harvey Lee, in a barber shop at Richmond. The following is clipped from the Clinax-Madisonian:

"Mr. M. M. Dickerson, known to everybody as 'Cap,' and who has conducted a barber shop on Main street, near Second, has sold the shop and his good will to Messrs. Harvey G. and Herbert Lee, of Garrard county, who continue the business at the same old stand. Mr. H. G. Lee has been a resident of Richmond for more than two years, and has had charge of Mr. Dickerson's business during his illness, extending over a period of nearly a year. The many friends of 'Cap' deplore the idea of his retirement, but sincerely trust that he will be restored to health and again take his old place among his friends and acquaintances. Mr. Lee since his residence among us has made many friends and his success is assured."

BIG MULE SALE

The mule sale advertised to take place next Saturday afternoon at the barns of W. B. Burton, is destined to be the biggest thing in this line ever pulled off in the city. Messrs. Robinson and Burton have about 40 young mules, well matched and broken and running in age from 4 to 5 years old.

QUARTERLY MEETING.

As the Presiding Elder cannot be present next Sunday, Rev. J. L. Clark will preach at the Memorial Methodist church both morning and evening. The Sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be administered at the morning service. C. H. Greer, the Presiding Elder, will hold the quarterly Conference the fourth Sunday afternoon and preach the same evening. Everybody invited. F. D. Palmeter, Pastor.

LINCOLN'S BIRTHDAY.

Although Kentucky is the birth place of Abraham Lincoln his birth was observed Monday as a legal holiday for the first time. This was made possible by an act of the last legislature. The post office was closed and a large flag hung out, the school children eulogized him in original essays and poems, otherwise the day passed off as usual. Two more dates were added to the repertoire of many children, namely February 12, 1809 and April 15, 1865.

THE HIGH SCHOOL PAPER.

What value has a high school paper? Is it a plaything or a vital part of high school life? The high school publication may be either. In many cases it is distinctly harmful in that it presents to receptive minds low ideals of humor, faulty emphasis on news values, and poor standards of business methods. It may and frequently does become a waste of energy and vitality. However, if properly directed the high school paper is a powerful aid to the school and its activities both in and out of the classroom. It may be a bond between school and community.

To be a decided advantage to the school, the contents of the paper must be of value. It should publish the news of the school, information on various school activities, such as debating, athletic contests, assemblies, social and business gathering, and the work of various departments, new courses of study, changes in the policy and direction of work, important general regulations and announcements, and programs of interest to pupils and patrons. A wisely directed department of opinion and comment on school affairs by editors and readers would add life and interest to the paper. Since such a publication must first of all reflect the life and atmosphere of the school, the entertaining feature cannot be ignored. The school paper must not be made into a tract, for being unread, it will fail of its first object—to be read. "But there are qualities and qualities of entertainment." Humor should be in good taste. The silly personal reference should be eliminated. Attempts at humor should be worthy. A bit of clever verse would be desirable. The paper should encourage students of an artistic turn of mind by giving an outlet for their energy. The best literary efforts should be sought and published.

Gathering and writing news items, judging news values, determining the worth of a contribution, proof-reading, making up the paper, in short, "getting out" the paper should be conducted on as accurate basis and with as much thought as the solving of a problem in mathematics or the doing of an experiment in science. Accuracy in observation and accuracy in expression should be the first and last commandments of the high school journalist. When the high school publication ceases to educate its editorial and business staff it fails in part, at least, to justify its existence.

Such a school paper should serve the school community in the same way in which a live newspaper serves its readers. Its powers to do this are limited only by the ability of those directing it, to grasp the importance of their trust and to make the most of the boundless opportunities the paper offers.

—Lancaster High School Bulletin.

EXEMPTIONS.

High school pupils will be exempt from final examinations at the end of the second term, (1) who have no unexcused absent or tardy marks; (2) whose department is not below 80 for any month; and (3) whose average class standing is 80, with no monthly grade below 80.

These conditions are easily met by average pupils, and the reward is enough to justify an honest effort on the part of every pupil. There is no reason why the majority of pupils should not meet the conditions. The required amount of HOME STUDY will make it possible. Parents will do well to urge this, not only that their children may be exempt from examinations, but that they may give the most out of their school work. Lancaster High School Bulletin.

U. S. S. JACOB JONES New York City, care of P. M.

The following is a very interesting letter written by a former Lancaster boy to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Sanford, of this city.

Feb. 14, 1917

Dear Father and Mother:

I guess that you all think I am never going to write to you again. I suppose I am a sailor now, as they tell me. I am not a sailor until one has been shipwrecked. On Feb. 1st 1917, at five o'clock in the evening we were shipwrecked. The water began to pour in the ship, and first thing we knew we were sinking. We were all eating supper when the Captain passed the word, "All hands on deck with life preservers, the ship is going down", and believe me, I thought my time had come. We worked like every thing to keep the water out of the ship, and at one o'clock we had it out. We fired three distress signals, put the flag upside down, and the "Philadelphia" came to our rescue. A large English ship went by and when we fired our guns you should have seen her run, and she went like lightning. She thought that we were firing at her. It was fun to see her steer away. Well at one o'clock they called for volunteers to go in the life boat to take a message to a tug boat to pull us off of the ground. So one officer, seven of the boys and I, started out. The sea was wild and the waves were high. We only got a few yards from the ship when the life boat was filled with water. The officer was scared very much and so was I. He said "It is up to you boys, pull or we will all be on the bottom before day light." We did pull but did not do very much good. The waves rolled high for three hours and we were in the ice cold water. At last we were thrown upon an island about two hundred yards from shore, we had to wade out, and go to a light house. They sent for the U. S. life sailors to come and they took us to the hospital, gave us dry clothes and put us to bed. They sent men from the ship to look for us all night, but when they could not find us or raise the boat, they reported us lost. Next day when the life sailors took us to the ship, the Captain sure was glad to see us. He was so glad, that he gave us an extra log feed, and said, "Well boys you have the day off", so slept all day. The officer with us said when he gets out of here he was going to stay on the farm. After all I like the navy life, and hope to make you all a visit soon. With lots of love to mother and the family.

SOLDIER BOY

Writes Interesting Letter From Philippine Islands.

At Ft. M. McKinley, P. I., Jan. 1, '17 To The Central Record and friends in Harvard.

Will take the pleasure in this beautiful New Year's day in writing to the home land, and giving my best wishes to all for a happy and prosperous New Year, and hope that this letter will find old Kentucky enjoying the best of health. This Christmas and New Year has been very lonesome here for most of us, still we have had lots to entertain us through the holidays. Xmas don't look real in the Philippines. I guess it is because we can't see snow and wear heavy clothing. We had a Christmas tree for this Post, and old Santa was almost overcome by heat before his task was completed. There are something like three thousand soldiers in this Post, and ball games, boxing and track events, is our daily sport. On Christmas day each Company and troop gave a dinner. I will give a menu of Co. I dinner, so that some of you who have not had the opportunity to see the soldiers during hall, will have an idea how Uncle Sam feeds his boys. Dyster soup, oyster crackers, roast turkey, roast pork loin, oyster dressing, giblet gravy, cream mashed potatoes, cream corn, French peas, baked sweet potatoes, cranberry sauce, apple sauce, celery, seed tomatoes, mince pie, pumpkin pie, chocolate layer cake, coconut layer cake, coconut, coffee, bread, creamery butter, apples, oranges, mixed candies, assorted nuts, cigars and cigarettes.

We should be thankful to enjoy a good Christmas dinner in peace, for we never know what time we will eat in some trench, like the soldiers in European countries are doing at present. But there are many of us that never realize or appreciate this, until it is too late. Well I will close for this time as Christmas will be getting old, by the time this letter reaches its destination. Best wishes and love to all.

Combination Seldom Found.

Some men possess talents that are great, but fritter them away in the execution of conceptions that are little; others, who can form great conceptions, attempt to carry them into execution with little means. These two descriptions of men would succeed if united, but kept asunder, both fail. It is a rare thing to find a combination of great means and of great conceptions in one mind. —Colton

"Cured"

Mrs. Jay McGee of Stephenville, Texas, writes: "For nine (9) years I suffered with womanly trouble. I had terrible headaches, and pains in my back, etc. It seemed as if I would die, I suffered so. At last, I decided to try Cardui, the woman's tonic, and it helped me right away. The full treatment not only helped me, but it cured me."

FARM AND LIVE STOCK

FEEDING EWES IN WINTER.

Grain Ration Necessary to Secure Best Results at Lambing Time.

Large lamb losses are due to improper care of ewes previous to lambing. The feeding practice followed at the Pennsylvania State college is as follows:

Ewes are bred during September and October, turning February and March lambs. The latter part of November ewes are taken off pasture and placed in winter quarters. During the first month they receive as much clover or alfalfa hay as they will consume with two and one-half to three pounds of corn chaff or roots daily to each animal, in addition to hay. About June 1 ewes receive a limited grain ration varying from one-fourth to one-half pound per day, depending on their condition.

The Oxford Down sheep is a fine breed. It is of a fine, clean, smooth coat of fine, close, wavy wool. It is a true, hardy, and active breed. It is a true, hardy, and active breed. It is a true, hardy, and active breed.

Ewes receiving a grain ration before lambing always produce more milk for lambs. The grain mixture used at State College farm consists of five parts of shelled corn, three parts of oats, two parts of wheat bran and one part of oilmeal.

After lambs are born the ewe will not consume as much roughage feed. More grain is then necessary to give a milk flow sufficient for the best growth of the lamb. The grain mixture should be increased, therefore, one-half pound or more daily per ewe, depending on her condition and also upon the number of lambs she is raising.

Next to proper feeding, exercise is considered the most important factor in keeping ewes in good condition for lambing. Exercise lots should be well drained to prevent sore feet. It is well to allow ewes to range on pasture during the winter, since exercise gives strength and enables them to produce lambs with less effort and of a stronger, more vigorous type.

FERTILIZING WHEAT.

For Spring Application Acid Phosphate is Recommended.

For wheatfields not fertilized last fall nor manured during the winter, the Ohio experiment station recommends for application in early spring, on nearly all soils that have been under long cultivation, from 200 to 300 pounds of acid phosphate to the acre. Nitrate of soda has paid for itself in some experimental field tests, but the present cost of potassium prohibits its use this year.

In the station's fertility tests 100 pounds of acid phosphate have produced increase in the yields of corn, oats, wheat and hay worth more than $1 an ordinary farm price. Nitrate of soda used alone has been impracticable, but its addition to acid phosphate has paid well on Wooster soil although barely sufficient to justify its use at Strongsville, Germantown and Cuyahoga Falls. These materials may easily be sown by hand in the spring before growth starts and are soluble in the soil for the use of plants. Because of the limited response of wheat to potassium and because of its high price this year the experiment station advises against the use of this element for the present wheat crop and urges farmers to preserve all farmyard manure carefully to supply the necessary potassium.

FARM STOCK.

Cleanliness is the watchword for success with pigs. There is no profit in a sheep flock that is neglected. Devoted care from birth to maturity with plenty of good feed, lots of exercise and by proper care, good breeding gives possibilities which good feeding and care develop. There is very little danger of disease with hogs if they are kept clean, fed clean food and given pure, clean water to drink. Clover or alfalfa hay and some grain fed with roots will bring the sheep flock through the winter in a thrifty and profitable condition. Mismanagement causes many horse breeding failures. Patronize only a superior pure bred, sound stallion.

A Southern Gentleman Is Popular Everywhere

Just think this over a minute.—How many friends have you? Not the fellows who borrow from you—I mean the chaps who will fight for you! Fellows who believe in you—who stick by you through thick and thin. You can count them on one hand, can't you? But listen to this.—I have several million down South here.

And why? Because I've been on the level.

I've played fair. I've never lied to my friends, nor cheated them, nor double-crossed them, nor held out on them.

They know me by my right name—SOV-EREIGN. A true gentleman of the South, born and bred of the real Southern stock. I mingle the blood of Virginia and Carolina—the best in the world—the choicest, sweetest, ripest, smoothest tobacco you ever smoked.

You Folks of the South KNOW Good blood!
You Folks of the South KNOW Good tobacco!

I have friends down South, and I keep them—because quality does tell. And it means a whole lot when I say:

I am guaranteed by The American Tobacco Co. —Buy me. If you don't like me return me to your dealer and get your money back. I have said it. A Southern gentleman is known the world over for keeping his word, and I have given you mine.

The Woodview school which has been closed for the past week on account of scarlet fever, was opened again Monday.

Mr Robert Green who recently left for Dallas Texas, has returned and he and his wife are keeping house at the home of his father.

Last Tuesday afternoon about four o'clock, Mrs Pollie Robinson of Berea, Ky., was stricken with paralysis. At ten o'clock that night her soul took its flight to the God who gave it and in whom she had trusted all her long and useful life. She was 73 years old and had been a consistent member of the Christian church since young womanhood. She had a host of friends to all of whom she was "Aunt Pollie Robinson". She was a faithful and loving wife and mother, a sincere and sympathetic friend.

She is survived by a husband, three sisters, three brothers, seven children and about forty grand children. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. Hudspeeth of Berea, at Level Green church near Cartersville, after which she was laid to rest in the family burying ground near the church.

The bereaved relatives and friends have our sincere sympathy. Our loss is Heaven's gain and we should remember the words of Job in his affliction.

"The Lord giveth and the Lord taketh away."

Blessed be the name of the Lord."

Prose—"I'll let you kiss every girl you meet." Poetry—"Well, hardly that, some get away."

Why We Wink Our Eyes.

The act of winking furnishes a steady lubrication for the eyes and the ball of the eye is kept clean and in good condition by the water which passes over it from the tear glands. That is why we wink—to carry the water from under the upper lid over the eye.

"THE CRISIS"

This famous story of the south will appear at the Roxy's Opera House, Saturday, Feb'y 24th. This picture has had a phenomenal run for the past two months. A masterpiece, proving that Lincoln loved the South. More details will appear in our next issue.

CARRANZA

Wants All Neutrals To Declare Embargo.

General Carranza has sent a note to all neutrals, including the United States, Brazil and China, asking them to join in an agreement to prohibit the exports from their countries to the warring European nations of foodstuffs and munitions of war.

WILD DEER

First Time in Memory of Oldest Citizen, Deer Will Run Free.

Wild deer will run free in the Kentucky mountains this year for the first time within the memory of the most of the present generation. The State Game and Fish Commission has decided to set free in that vicinity some of the deer now confined on the Pine Mountain reservation, and send some of those from the pens at Louisville to the wooded country between the Tennessee and Cumberland river in Western Ky.

HIS QUICK DEATH

Brings Big Profit On Unusual Barter.

The quick death of John Fischer, of Stithon, this week was responsible for a large monetary profit made by Mr. Fischer's estate as the result of an unusual transaction made by him. Last May Mr. Fischer traded to the Ingham Life Insurance Co. his farm near Stithon for a paid-up policy on his life for $12,000. The place is valued at $1,000 to $5,000, so his estate is better off to the extent of at least $7,000 because of this strange barter. Mr. Fischer was fifty-seven years old at the time the company assumed the risk. He leased the place from the time of transfer until his death. —Elizabethtown News.

J. R. MOUNT

ANNOUNCES FOR STATE SENATOR.

Although a prospective candidate for several weeks, it is not until now that we are instructed to formally announce in this issue the candidacy of Mr. J. R. Mount for the nomination of State Senator in this district, subject to the action of the Democratic primary next August. His announcement will be read with much interest by his friends throughout the district, for while it is brief, it covers a wide range of important issues that are now and will be before the people for several months to come and he makes himself very plain just where he stands upon these important questions.

His announcement contains as follows:

To The Voters of The 18th Kentucky Senatorial District.

"I am a candidate for the State Senate, subject to the Democratic primary.

I am for submitting a constitutional amendment for State-wide prohibition and so voted in the 1911 Legislature.

I will vote and work for such amendment when submitted, and for National Prohibition.

I am for the bill submitted by the State Tax Commission because it will place greater burden on real estate and will create additional offices.

I am for a curtailment of State expenses by abolishing a number of superfluous and unnecessary State offices.

I am for a reduction in the pay of members of the Legislature from $10, to $5 per day, and so voted in the 1911 Legislature.

Those who know Mr. Mount personally, know that he means just what he says in his candid card and that he will have the courage of his convictions and will vote to carry out every plan in his platform should he receive the nomination and be elected to the important office he seeks. He favors the submitting of the state wide amendment, and proves his sincerity by citing his record in voting for it three years ago. It is also a matter of record that Mr. Mount supported the county unit bill in 1908, when he represented Oudham county in the lower branch of the legislature. His friends in this county will stand by him in his present race and believe that he will make us good record for the district as when he represented the county in 1911.

He has served the Democratic party for the past forty years and more counting to this county about 12 years ago, was chairman of the campaign committee for one year and served as secretary of the county committee for four years.

Mr. Mount is well and favorably known over the entire district and we predict and bespeak for him a thoughtful consideration from the electorate. He has decided views on pertinent questions, and is not afraid to express them, which must be very gratifying to his friends to support a candidate who has a little courage and candor in asking for the suffrage of the people.

NEW ORGANIZATIONS

Within the last few weeks two new high school organizations, one of the boys and one of the girls, have been perfected. It is the purpose of these organizations to add life and interest to the regular work of the school by extending the activities beyond the class rooms. The regular weekly programs are of a literary nature, but it is hoped that these clubs may become a means of developing the athletic and social phases of school life.

There is no very good reason why, after this year, a minimum of credit toward graduation should not be given for creditable work in debating, declaiming, etc. Many of the best high schools of the country do this. Why not Lancaster?

The boys elected as temporary officers of their club: Owen Hendren, President; Clayton Morrow, Vice President; Hudson Frisbie, Secretary; Treasurer. The officers of the girls' club are Georgia Mose, President, and Nellie Cux, Secretary.

LANE.

Mrs. Amanda J. Lane died very suddenly last Friday night. The death angel came in the night, calling her to a home everlasting where good-bye's are never said. Mrs. Lane was one of the oldest and most popular women in the Buena Vista district.

She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Hettie Tracy of Louisville, who was with her at the time of her death. She also survived by seven children and a host of grand children. Her oldest son, Chris Lane, lives in Brooklyn, N. Y. Benjamin Lane of Louisville, Clarence Lane of Covington, Mrs. Logan Scott and Annie Walton of Buena Vista, and Mrs. George Scales of Camp Nelson.

Mrs. Lane was one of the most lovable characters known for her age. Her home was a home where both old and young gathered for a good time. Her death took place at 2:30 o'clock in the family burying ground on the farm where her entire life was spent. The community extends to the bereaved ones much sympathy.

BELOVED WOMAN DIES AT HER HOME IN STANFORD

At the close of a useful life, Mrs. Lottie Lunsing Wagner was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in the Stanford cemetery. The funeral services were held at the home to which she went as a bride, and the rooms where were gathered her friends to pay their last tribute, were fragrant with a profusion of flowers. The air was sweet with these mute tokens of love and admiration.

The casket was in a room apart, covered with flowers and surrounded by her children, brothers, sisters and nearest relatives. A hush was on all who had gathered sorrowing when the comforting words, "I am the resurrection and the life, saith the Lord," "he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live," fell on the ear. And again words of comfort, gleaned from Gods word by her own hands, and left in her Bible were read, and before those who listened, there arose the vision of the woman who will live in the hearts she left behind for she had heapd up riches that abide. She had brought joy into the hearts of those upon whom misfortune had fallen.

"Lord, let me know mine end and the number of my days," read the preacher, and the hearers knew she had prepared for the end by helping to make this world a better abiding place for those who live after her.

A gentle woman in the fullest sense of that word, for not in all the universe was there a man or woman who could treasure against her malice for wrong done, pettiness displayed or injustice rendered.

During the past weeks, weakened by her long illness, her thought of others was as dominant as in the days of her greatest strength, her voice as gentle, her smile as sweet, her heart as tender.

In her death, Lancaster, the place of her nativity, and Stanford, the place of her adoption, lost a woman of charming personality, gracious manner and beautiful christian character. The spirit of the highest, the loving helper of the most humble, it was a benediction to know her and none could know her but to love her.

Her life and character is reflected in her children, who are, Mr. Ashley M. Wagner, Misses Jennie, Charlotte and Margaret, and Mrs. Richard Asbury of Chattanooga, and Mrs. Chas. Osborne of Knoxville. She also leaves three sisters and two brothers, Mrs. William Bradley of Frankfort, Mrs. W. S. Egan of Atlanta, and Miss Jennie Duncan of this place, Judge Will Duncan of Louisville, and Mr. John Duncan of Lancaster.

His Explanation.

The heavy—"I hear that your interpretation of Hamlet was missed at the High Forehand theater last night."

The lead—"Ah, yes! The performance was billed as a Shakespearean revival and I suspect some patois of Bacon resented it."—"Tuck.

OPTIMISTS.

ALUMNI-AE NOTES.

Billy Miller, '16.

Congratulations—The boys and girls of the Lancaster High School are to be congratulated upon starting the first school paper in Lancaster. It certainly shows that our school is progressive. The students of the High School with the assistance of the splendid faculty will do all in their power to make it a success, everybody should aid them and encourage the new enterprise.

Class of 1916.

The class of '16 was composed of ten brilliant students, namely, our true "Farmer" J. Wade Walker, "Prof." Emmet Broadbent, John Holtzclaw, who is attending Transylvania College; Miss Mina Hankin who is attending K. C. W. Miss Charlotte Politt who is assisting in the County Clerk's office in Jackson, and we believe that she should be able to get "marriage licenses" a little cheaper. Domestic Art was taught in this class, and the following young ladies are practicing at their homes what Miss Robinson preached to them. Miss Mary E. King, Nannie Bratton, Ella M. Hiesby, and Sarah Wilmoth, while Miss Charlotte Elmore is taking additional work in High School this year.

Class of 1915.

The class of 1915 was the largest class ever graduated from the Lancaster High School. This class included twelve beautiful girls and ten "boys," "medium" and "short" boys. Only two of this class have "taken out themselves" husbands, Miss Nora Brown, now Mrs. J. A. Hilton and Miss Lora Schoeder, now Mrs. Creed Simpson. Misses Melissa Sutton, Janie Terrill, Sara Dunn and Mae Powell are teaching the younger generation. Misses Sutton and Dunn have been teaching in the country. Miss Terrill is at Harlan and Miss Powell is teaching at Point Dick. Miss Lida Ralney is a student at K. C. W. Miss Viola Truhle is attending Richmond State Normal, and Miss Viola Beagle represents Lancaster High at Georgetown. Miss Martha Tindler attended Hamilton College last year, and at present is taking a course in china painting. Miss Ora Prather is in Chicago where she holds a nice position. Miss Jennie Cox is the popular saleslady at Joseph's. Mr. Jay Sterling Herron holds a lucrative position in Cleveland, O. Mr. Milton Henry Elliott is at the Louisville College of Dentistry, his brother Paul, is representing L. H. S. at the University of Kentucky, but is visiting his parents now. Mr. Bradley "Nooger" Bourne is attending Transylvania College. Class Bowling Captain who attended Transylvania College last year, is the leading salesman at Dickerson & Barber. Mr. James Woods, late of '11, now holds down a good position up East. Mr. Gowan Bourne is in "Little Britain" where he recently finished a business course. Mr. Wood Wilmoth is the efficient salesman at W. H. Ball's grocery, and his friend Joe "Mike" Kavanagh is farming. If Joe grows all the "bacon" and hamp he says he is going to raise, he will be the richest man in the county.

 he goes with the prospect of locating.

Mr. T. K. Watson, of Barboursville, has been in the city for two days, on his way to Cincinnati, where he goes to purchase Spring goods. He has charge of the large store of P. G.
 Wehner at Barboursville, and says "That west to Lancaster, it is the best town in the state."

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simpson and their daughter, Elizabeth, leave Monday to make their home in Lexington.
 This is greatly regretted by a host of friends. Mr. Simpson has secured a splendid position with Purcell where he has charge of the shoe department and where he will be "at home" to his Lancaster friends.

Mrs. Edith Simpson entertained last Thursday afternoon in honor of the eighth birthday of her grand-daughter, little Miss Elizabeth Simpson. About fifteen little girls shared the hospitality of Mrs. Simpson with Elizabeth. Delightful refreshments were served and a most enjoyable afternoon spent.
 Many regrets were expressed that the popular young hostess was soon to leave to live in Lexington.

Mrs. J. L. Slavin entertained yesterday afternoon with a picture show party at the opera house to see "The Rosary" in honor of Miss Tommie Francis, of Lancaster, who is the house guest of Mrs. William Banks Hudson on Third street followed by five o'clock tea at the Shop-Perfect.

 Mrs. Slavin's guests were Miss Francis, Mrs. W. Banks Hudson, Mrs. Fox
 Caldwell, Mrs. Robert Graham Price,

It is asserted by play goers that Sarah Bernhardt still has the fire and storminess she had when she first began to make "fare-well tours" over thirty years ago. She is now past the allotted life of three score years and ten and seems destined to carry her genius with her to her last resting place, even if there's nothing else left.

Secretary Houston told the Cabinet that data in the hands of the Department of Agriculture shows that the United States can be self-sustaining whatever may happen to cut her off from the rest of the world. There is no danger, he said, of the country being placed in the position of most of the European belligerents so far as the food supply is concerned.

The three great foreign liners,
 Richmond, of the French Line, Adriatic, of the White Star and Carmara, of the Cunard Line, sailed away from New York after the German threat of a ruthless submarine war. Each vessel carried a number of passengers. The Richmond carried American passengers and had her gun, showing plainly at her stern as she sailed from New York harbor. The British boats now carry guns.

Irrefragable evidence of a German plot to interfere with commerce thru the Panama Canal and in the harbor at Manila and other Philippine ports has been received at the War department.
 To frustrate this plot, the United States has taken possession of the ships in all ports under the jurisdiction of the War department. Secretary of War Baker issued a statement declaring that the ships had not been "seized", but that the American authorities merely had taken possession of them to prevent obstructions to commerce.

CATTLE SALE

Mr. John C. Robinson, of Boyle county, sold last week to Whitehouse and Johnson, 33 head of 1000 pound cattle for immediate delivery, the price paid being 8 cents a pound. The same party's also bought of Mr. Robinson, 32 hogs that averaged 175 pounds, at 10 cents a pound.

SICK IMPROVING.

Dr. J. B. Kinnard who has been confined to his home for the past two weeks is improving rapidly and his sad will soon be himself again.

Mrs. Snyder Lenoire continues to improve at the Danville Hospital, where she was operated on two weeks ago, and is able to return home in about ten days.

Mr. Cabot Penny has been down for a few days with grip, but is improving at this writing. His illness has kept him from the bank for the past week.

Dr. Victor Lear, is also suffering with that popular disease, grip, but is slowly improving after a stay in home for the past ten days.

Mrs. John Parra has been quite sick again for several days but is slightly improved at this writing.

Mrs. M. S. Hatfield unable to be up, after the serious accident she sustained in an auto wreck a few weeks ago.
 Miss Mattie Lee Cox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owsley Cox, is suffering from a severe attack of muscular rheumatism, which developed about two weeks ago.

Mr. Ed. C. Gones, the popular insurance man, was taken ill at Stanford last Monday, but we are glad to announce that he is now entirely recovered and able to look after his thriving business.

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Lancaster people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test.
 Mr. Zanone endorsed Doan's nearly five years ago and again ratifies the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

W. M. Zanone, 1740 Orchard St., Lancaster, says: "My kidneys were irregular in action and the kidney accretions contained sediment. I had pains through my back and sides and when I stooped, I could hardly straighten. I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they completely relieved me of all the trouble." (Statement given February 6, 1912.)

On November 17, 1916 Mr. Zanone said: "I gladly confirm and I said in my former endorsement of Doan's Kidney Pills. I have very little trouble with my kidneys now, but when I do, I can depend on Doan's Kidney Pills. They always relieve me."

Fill In Picture Puzzle No. 2

As you have found out already, you drew an elephant when you drew picture
 No. 1. All you young people no doubt have seen him at the circus or in the zoo when he is tame. When angry his great strength makes his keepers tremble for their lives. It is fascinating to watch this animal sweep up articles with his trunk. Now, here is another puzzle cut. Start at 1 and let your pencil move to 2, 3, 4, 5, etc., and the picture of another well known object will be your reward.

We will gladly print the names of all children who will take the pains to trace out the above picture. You will find it interesting and they will appear in every issue of the Record from this date. Who will be the first to send his or her name?

A dandy bunch of toys and girls sent in their drawings of the "Elephant" last week and each drawing showed careful work and the execution of each was fine. We have another this week that will be interesting as was the other and we want to see how many and how well they will trace the puzzle in this issue. The following were successful in last issue:—Guy A. Inhof, Elmer Owens, Louis Leroy House, Robert Lee Thomas, Eugenia Dunlap, Albie Brun-met, Sallie Sutton, Ward Centers, Carl Hume, Elgin Ray, Jack Williams, Mary Elizabeth Poynter, C. D. Woods, Lucile Sanders, Willie Francis Prather, Elmer Hardin Casey, Stella Prewitt, Mary Anderson, Mattie Henderson, Della
 Mae Turner, Susie Dudderar, Lucian Broadbent, Evalyne Prewitt.

All the contestants must clip out the picture after being traced and mail to the Central Record, that we may see how well the work has been done.

GROWING TURKEYS.

Abundance of Food and Room For Exercise Necessary to Success.

Every precaution should be taken in turkey raising to obtain strong, vigorous stock. Do not imagine that this is the main point of excellence, say a poultry expert. A medium sized turkey weighing about twenty five pounds will usually render more satisfactory results than an over-heavy specimen. In all flocks remember that the male is largely influenced by the female and the odor and distastefulness of the latter is by the male. The hens should be well nurtured, weighing more than fourteen pounds. Intelligent farmers as distinguished from wild and untamed fowls, and of a most successful constitution. A safe rule for mating is to have a hen for every four to six hens. Fertility is reported from matings made to every twelve females, but are inclined to think this is unusual. On farms where the flocks are raised it is customary to keep two cockles every eight or ten hens and to mate the males about twice a week, keeping one period about which the other is with the flock. When birds are given individual care, which is the most successful method of raising them, they naturally divide into flocks. It is said that the real secret of success in raising turkeys is exercise.

When preparing for a successful hatch of turkey eggs it is almost impossible to have too many precautions. Only when turkey fowls are free range and their feeds can the best results be obtained by a policy of noninterference. Even under such circumstances it is usually well to take some precautionary measures. The first should be found and, if necessary, protected from the weather by a A coop that has at one side an opening sufficiently large to allow the turkey hen to enter easily. A picture shows a turkey on a nice nest.

They must have an abundance of food and to maintain the necessary health to assimilate large quantities of food they must have an abundance of exercise. This idea is entirely logical. Turkeys are large birds, semiwild by nature, possessors of a roving disposition and fully capable of taking care of themselves. To confine them is to impose a feeling of constraint and worry upon them, over which they never cease to fret. To do well turkeys must have range. Only a few should be attempted in a confined space, and even then they will require painstaking care. Much of the so called "bad luck" in turkey raising, infertility, soft shelled eggs and impaired vigor, is due to improper feeding. Avoid having the breeding stock too fat. If they have become so during the winter season endeavor to reduce them to medium flesh before the mating season. Hens are one of the best feeds during the breeding months, with an occasional feeding of wheat, corn, barley and ground bone. Grit, oyster shells and charcoal should be kept within easy reach of the bird at all times and a plentiful supply of fresh drinking water.

Continued Selection For Corn.

Corn productivity may be greatly increased through continued selection. For fourteen seasons this has been studied on a 3000 acre farm in Ohio. A dozen acre plots of corn on these small plots seed selected from the best of the best of the farm have been contrasted with the farm yield of the same variety of corn less carefully selected and grown under identical cultural conditions. During the first seven year period the fields planted with the permanent seed yielded 133 bushels per acre more than the farm fields, while for the second seven years the increase averaged 218 bushels per acre.

Tips on Horticulture.

Frank H. Cross of the department of horticulture at Oklahoma A. and M. college, Stillwater, offers the following advice to farmers:

- Don't lay your fruits and vegetables. Rubs 'em.
- Don't neglect insects and diseases. They are easily controlled by spraying.
- Don't forget to use fertilizers. They increase production wonderfully.
- Don't prune too much or too little. Use judgment.
- "An apple a day keeps the doctor away."
- Bring satisfaction and good cheer to the home and folks by planting flowers and shrubs about the house and lawn.
- Plan to live, not to die.

PROFITABLE SOIL CULTURE

SECRET OF CORN GROWING.

Maintaining a Balance Between Heat, Moisture and Fertility.

[Prepared by United States Department of Agriculture.]

The secret of successful corn culture is to maintain a proper balance of moisture, heat and fertility. These three factors, together with the nature of the soil, determine yields in all parts of the country.

A change in the supply of one may make a change in another advisable. Thus the moisture requirement varies with the amount of heat available. In addition to water and heat, soil fertility and soil also must be regarded among the chief essentials. No one of these can be said to be more important than another. Where all are abundant except one or two, for example, this one becomes the limiting factor, and methods of supplying it become the important means of increasing the yield.

Corn possesses characteristics which appear to make it adapted to drought conditions and, on the other hand, has qualities which make its possibilities as a crop for semiarid regions and call for special adjustments. In producing a given weight of food or dry matter corn uses less water than certain other crops, as corn, clover and alfalfa. It is deep rooted and can, if necessary, draw water from a depth of five or six feet. In hot, dry weather the rolling of the leaves reduces the loss of water. On the other hand, the best corn plants are those that have the habit of this crop makes it less adapted to soil and regions than other grain or forage crops.

Corn makes its early growth during the season of highest temperature, growing best when the thermometer registers 80 to 100 degrees F. It can grow in early spring or late fall, and its growth is retarded during the summer by cold nights and dry weather. It needs its greatest supply of moisture during the summer weeks when droughts are most likely and when rains are less effective because of losses from evaporation. In other words, the heat requirement of corn prevents growth at times when moisture conditions are likely to be most favorable, while lack of moisture frequently retards growth when heat conditions are most favorable. The problem, therefore, where heat is great and moisture deficient is to store up moisture, and where moisture is plentiful and heat deficient so to handle the soil as to prevent moisture from lessening unduly such heat as may be available.

In the case of corn, which differs in this respect from perfect flowering plants, the setting of seed and the filling of the ears are seriously interfered with by summer droughts. Corn has two kinds of flowers—the tassel or pollen bearer and the seed forming or silk bearing flowers. The pollen from one falling on the silk of the other is necessary to the development of grain. Droughty conditions often hasten the shedding of pollen, but delay the appearance of silks, with the result that the pollen is mostly wasted. If fertilization is prevented in this way no amount of later rain can cause kernels to form or make a good grain yield. The corn crop is sometimes injured by hot winds that do less damage to such crops as alfalfa and the grain sorghums. The problem here is to the choice of planting time and the selection of early maturing or late maturing varieties to bring about the double flowering of the corn at times when drought is least liable to interfere with fertilization.

Everything corn gets from the soil is in liquid form, and the crop cannot grow unless the soil contains moisture to spare.

Irrigating Upland.

Where uplands near and overlooking lowlands are irrigated provision should be made for subdrainage or the filtering of the drainage, as the salts in the upland soils will be carried to the lowlands and damage them for agriculture. This has shown quite clearly in research work following the drainage from irrigated uplands.

PERUNA in Your Home

A housewife must give the first aid in colds, coughs and other ailments. Her promptness in applying the remedy often saves a serious illness. Her experience with remedies has led her to know that PERUNA is always reliable, that she should have it on hand for the immediate treatment of coughs and colds, and that it is always to her.

Mrs. George Parker, 424 Water St., Memphis, Wis., writes: "We have used Peruna in our family for a number of years, and have found it a perfectly reliable medicine. It soon rid the system of any traces of a cold, and prevented serious complications. I have used it for catarrh, which I suffered with a good many years. Since I have taken Peruna the danger in my throat has disappeared, and my head and nose are not so stuffed up in the morning. I am pleased with the results, and shall continue to use it until I am entirely rid of catarrh. I have recommended it to many householders. What it does for you is ready to do for you."

The Family Safeguard

The experience of one woman, given herewith, is typical of thousands of letters that reach the Peruna Company from grateful friends who have found their homes incomplete, and their family safety in danger, without PERUNA.

Colds and Catarrh

The great weight of testimony that has accumulated in the 44 years that PERUNA has been on the market proves it, beyond question, to be the reliable family remedy, ever ready to take, preventing the serious effects of colds, coughs, and derangements of the digestive organs. This proof is published from time to time and many families have profited by it.

Remember you can obtain PERUNA in tablet form for your convenience. Carry it with you and be fortified against sudden attacks.

A SHERIFF'S STORY

The Only Life He Took That Troubled Him.

By WILLARD BLAKEMAN

Jake Redman was a sheriff in the then territory of Dakota. He had landed more desperadoes alive and dead than any other sheriff, but it must be admitted that by far the larger number were dead when captured, for very few of them could be taken alive. Besides, Redman didn't take any chances, for an officer of the law was no more immune from these people than any one else. I once asked him if he had any shrinking at killing one of them or any qualms afterward. He replied that if he had been built that way they would have hauled him instead of his landing them.

"But there was one killing," he said, "that has troubled me ever since. I wake up nights some time and get to thinkin' about it and always feel the same sickin' about the heart. It was this way:

"Before I was made sheriff I was workin' on a ranch owned by a gentleman as had come out from the east. He had been a banker or some'n like that, but had given up the business to bring his daughter, a little gal about nineteen, who was threatened with consumption, out here, hopin' the air would do her good. Havin' plenty of money, the natural thing for him to do was to buy a ranch and stock it. But he didn't care nothin' about that, except to give him some'n to do. He was bound up in his daughter Susie, just as everybody else was. Talk about heart winners, Susie could slaughter more people that way than any one I ever seen. There wasn't any one on the ranch or off'n it that wouldn't swallow a dose of love for her.

"I never could tell just what it was about her that had this effect, but I allowed the principal part of it was that her heart went out to everybody. When they was hangin' in to do sompin' for her she was worryin' because they was puttin' themselves out'n their way on her account. Besides, delicate people alius attract strong ones. Susie was so frail she looked as if the first good wind that blew would carry her away. But besides all this there was some'n whinin' about her that no one could reckon on.

"I got ahead of every one else with her this way. I owned a blooded mare that was as easy managed as a kitten and could git along like the wind. Nothin' Susie liked better'n to ride on horseback, but she wouldn't ride any other horse than my Kate. I used to go with her lots o' times, for her father wouldn't let her go alone and didn't like to have her go under the care of any one else. I was only about ten years older than Susie and unmarried; but, laws, I'd as soon calculated on makin' love to some gal as some down from heaven! But this didn't matter nohow, for there was a young gent as had left college to go to ranchin' that Susie had met and tumbled to. In our rides together she got confidential with me and told me all about it; told me when the feller himself didn't know nothin' at all about it. In fact, I was the only person as knewed it except the little gal herself.

"This young man's, Dick Walcott's, ranch was a matter o' fifty miles from ourn, which was known as the Courtney ranch. Susie's father, who owned it, but Walcott used to come over quite frequent, makin' excuses all the time, to see Susie. Gosh, how the young feller was whup'n in her! He would any time have crawled on the ground before her. She told me she didn't let on she cared any more for him than any one else, because she wasn't strong and healthy and wasn't willin' to pull any man down by neckin' him. I just think o' this angel couldn't this to a rough feller like me when nobody else knowed it!

"There was one o' the herders in Mr. Courtney's employ that was a bad egg. He took some sort o' malice atn young Walcott. I didn't know the reason at first. I just reckoned that Walcott had treated him like the galoot he was. This herder, Jim Stiggs, was not only a powerful man, but was one of the quickest and sturdiest shots I ever seen. I alius allowed that if I had a dispute with him I wouldn't do much sleepin', but would keep my right eye on him continually till the fracas was settled. I was sorry he'd turned agin Walcott, for Walcott was no match for him whatever—more of a feller to handle bods than revolvers. Mind you, I wasn't thinkin' of Walcott. I was fearful for Susie, knowin' mighty well that if anything happened to him it would knock her into smithereens.

"Well, one day the secret of Stiggs' dislike came out with a vengeance. Susie came to me all of a flutter and a-wriggle of her hands and said: "Jim Stiggs has left here to go to the Walcott ranch to kill Dick. Stiggs has made love to me!"

"What! That galoot made love to you?"

"Yes; and of course I wouldn't listen to it. He has suffered how I feel toward Dick, and he went away sayin' he would kill Dick this very night. Can't you do something to stop him?"

"How long has he been gone?"

"Nearly two hours."

"THE LAND OF NOW"

EXPERIENCE AND EFFICIENCY COUNT IN ALL BUSINESS.

Our records for the past eight years show sales of more than 10,500 acres of land, besides a large amount of town and city property and stocks of merchandise, amounting to more than $1,350,000.00 and this business was done to the entire satisfaction of more than 500 clients and customers and they are my references for "fair dealing."

From my experience in the business I know how, when, where and what to advertise.

To the one who has property to sell—farm lands, city property, dwellings, city or business property, merchandise or any real estate proposition, I solicit your business, believing I can handle it to your entire satisfaction.

List your farm or other property with me now. I now have on hand a long list of parties who are going to buy something somewhere and your property may be just what I am looking for.

To the one who wants to invest, I solicit your patronage as I know values and know that when you close a deal through me you will get "value received" for your money.

I have on hand for sale at all times a large number of farms, dwellings, city property not in the advertised list, as my list of property is constantly changing, by sales, expirations, renewals, listing new properties and some of my best properties are not advertised at the request of the owners.

If you are a non-resident of Garrard County, write me and I will tell you all about our County, its fertile soil, its products, market facilities, good roads, schools and churches, of Lancaster and its business, its people and its growth. The following is just a few of the properties I have on hand for sale now.

FARMS.

A farm of 247 acres, gently level land, highly improved, on pike.

A farm of 150 acres, partly rolling land, good improvements, on pike with about 100 acres of cult and growing land thrown in.

A farm of 201 acres on two pikes, can be divided in several tracts. No improvements but a number of building sites. Fine location. Land lies well.

A fertile farm of 184 acres with splendid improvements, land lies well and is on pike.

A small farm of 25 acres, with 3 room house, good orchard, well located, on pike, close to school and churches, or 10 acres with large barn adjoining can be added, making 35 acres. Possession at once.

A farm of 125 acres, close to town, large tobacco barn and fine building site on pike for dwelling.

A farm of 38 acres, partly rolling, fine loc., splendid improvements, right on pike.

A farm of 128 acres, 4 miles from town, on pike, land partly rolling, splendid improvements.

A farm of 110 acres of fine land well improved, on pike accessible to market of three county seats. Land lies well.

A small farm of 18 acres, one-fourth mile from pike, with good improvements.

CITY PROPERTY.

New modern dwelling of 8 rooms, 2 halls, cellar, bath room, modern improvements, furnace heated, electric lights, water works, small modern barn and 1 acres of land.

A dwelling of 6 rooms and out buildings and 4 acres of land.

Another new modern dwelling of 10 rooms with all modern conveniences.

A number of other dwellings and building lots.

SUCCESS WITH BARLEY.

Experience of a Farmer Who Sowed it as an Alfalfa Nurse Crop.

I have never raised barley as a crop but once, and then it was used as a nurse crop to alfalfa in 1915. I was a correspondent of Orange-Judd Farmer. I sowed ten acres of barley broadcast on May 3, 1915, using ten bushels. I think the name of the variety was Osterbrock. It is a fourfold barley, with six rows of kernels. I paid 50 cents a bushel for the seed. I landed it and tumbled it for sowing in a wagon box, using formaldehyde.

The barley being headed, I could not cut for hay, so I let it mature and cut and shocked it for thrashing. It being very wet in harvest time, it was set up in long shocks and not capped, and it stood the wet weather remarkably well. When it stopped raining we thrashed about Sept. 4. It yielded 324 bushels, machine measure, and went into the bin in the shape. I have used it for grinding and sold some for seed at 78 cents per bushel. The alfalfa came on nicely, and the binder clipped it some, then we mowed it off about Oct. 1 and let the clippings lie on the ground.

The field was tilled April 27, using three tons of pulverized limestone per acre, spread with a limestone sower. The alfalfa seed was inoculated. The two and one-half bushels of seed used was sown with a hand sower, using one-half of the seed both ways of the field, followed by a sixteen foot harrow, then rolled and harrowed again. The ground was in excellent shape in 1914 and undisturbed and played close and the ten bushels of seed barley produced 324 bushels of good heavy barley. That it had been used as a nurse crop I would have sworn to and it might have produced more bushels. A large per cent was shocked and wasted on the ground.

FARMERS SHOULD RAISE MORE DRAFT HORSES

The danger of overproduction of horses is remote. It costs more to produce them than any other class of livestock, writes Wayne Linsmore in the Town Homestead. For that reason many farmers sit back and proclaim that it doesn't pay to raise horses, that there never was a time when the horse market was so dull as now, that the motor truck and tractor have killed the horse business and the horse is a thing of the past. Some people believe all of this, even though the truth of the matter is the opposite.

Those who have allowed such thoughts to direct their operations for

One of the speakers at the Illinois Horse Breeders' association said that one reason for the fact that our farm horses are not as good as they ought to be is the want of good, useful mares. Approximately half the stallions stand for public service in this country are grade and scrub and half the pure bloods ought never to have been used as sires. The stallion shown is a pure bred Percheron.

the past five to ten years will soon see the error of their ways. It takes time to make much headway in the horse business. Five years are needed to grow a horse. At best one should not expect more than two colts from three mares as an average per year. More over not more than 10 per cent of our farmers are raising colts. Not long hence the American farmer will wake up only to learn that a great opportunity has passed.

The next ten years is bound to see the greatest demand for horseflesh the world has ever known. It can't be met on short notice. The man who is breeding every mare old enough to the best stallion available and is taking proper care of the offspring is the man who is sure to be rewarded.

There are plenty of men who have bought and paid for farms within the past ten years by their pure bred draft mares. In the same community there are farmers who are no better off financially than they were a decade ago because they failed to foresee the profits from using the right kind of horses in their farm work. The men who have made money and who are going to reap the fruits of their efforts in the future are those who early saw the undeniable need for heavy draft horses for farm work, who bred that kind and who will continue to do so without a fault.

Keep Eggs Clean.

Provide cozy, clean nests. There should be at least one nest for every six hens. Foul nests cause dirty eggs. Dirty eggs, no matter how large and fresh, are always graded as seconds or lower. Gather the eggs often and keep them in a cool, dry place all the time until they are sold. Use the small, dirty or cracked eggs at home. Small eggs are just as wholesome for food as large ones.

The Man's Bath.

An old box half full of wood ashes and the ashes sprinkled with lime make a good bath wherein Biddy can bathe herself and free herself of vermin.
